

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Case Farms Morganton Facility Reaches One Million Man Hours Without a Lost-Time Accident

Morganton, NC (November 3, 2022) – Case Farms, a local poultry farming and processing group, achieved another safety milestone on October 26th after their Morganton processing facility reached one million hours without experiencing an Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) recordable lost-time accident (LTA). The Morganton facility’s accomplishment is just one of the company’s safety achievements. It is the third time in 2022, that a Case Farms facility has reached this safety milestone.

“We should all be very proud, as this accomplishment doesn’t happen by luck. We can only hit this milestone when everyone is doing their part and working safely day after day,” said Tyler Parlier, regional safety manager, North Carolina Division. “It takes us all working together to provide a safe work environment for our employees.”

In addition to efforts made by employees, Case Farms implements a company-wide worker safety program comprised of core elements that are essential to achieving and maintaining a strong safety and health program.

"At Case Farms, we continue to work towards our goal of being at the top of the safest poultry companies," continued Parlier.

About Case Farms

Founded in 1986, Case Farms is a fully integrated poultry farming and processing group of dedicated individuals that work together to produce consistent, quality poultry products. Its driving purpose is to deliver superior products and service to every customer, every time. Case Farms processes 3.8 million birds per week, has over 3,300 dedicated team members, and produces in excess of 1.1 billion pounds of fresh, partially cooked, and frozen-for-export poultry products per year. The company has operations or offices in Ohio and North Carolina. For more information on Case Farms, visit www.casefarms.com.